Next month The Star will move into new and larger quarters at 212 South Walnut street.

A long-term lease has been signed by Alex. H. Washburn and C. E. Palmer, owners of the newspaper, with Talbot Field, the building owner. The new home will give The Star 60 per cent more floor space than its present building at 217 South Main street, and will permit construction of sound-proof offices apart from the main newspaper plant.

The new location, former home of the South Arkansas Implement company, has an eastern exposure, and is joined on the north by a paved alley and the postoffice lawn. Remodeling of the building will begin this month, and the newspaper plant will be moved on a week-end early in February. There will be no suspension of publication during the transfer. The paper will be sent to press early one Saturday, and, barring accident, the big press will be running on its new foundation again the following Monday.

Mellon Promises Balanced Budget in 1934 By Higher Tax

Administration's Increase Plan Submitted by Secretary Wednesday

CITES HEAVY DEFICIT

Tax Would Return Income of $390,000,000 During Current Year

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A balanced budget at the end of the fiscal year 1934 is the goal of the administration tax increase program submitted Wednesday by Secretary Mellon to the House Ways and Means Committee.

Citing a $903,000,000 deficit last year and a prospective deficit of $2,120,000,000 this year, Mellon estimated that there would be a deficit of $1,417,000,000 in 1933, despite an increase in revenue.

Mellon said the tax plan he submitted would return $390,000,000 during the current fiscal year and $920,000,000 in the fiscal year of 1933, beginning next July 1.

It would include a selective sales tax, increase in income and corporation taxes, super estate tax and increases in surtaxes.

Big Area Flooded in South Arkansas

650 Square Miles Between Camden and Felsenthal Under Water

EL DORADO—Flooded by rains, Louisiana, minor streams in widely separated sections went over their banks Tuesday and swept into Smackover and Cornie creeks, both already at flood stage.

With no outlet for excess waters, floods coursed through territory seldom touched by high waters, and the surging water cut criss-cross patterns across Union county tonight.

At least 650 square miles of lowlands are under water between Camden and Lock 6, near Felsenthal. The inundated territory, however, is sparsely populated, and few families have been forced to leave their dwellings. Fishermen and their families poled their houseboats nearer the hills and prepared to "ride out" the crest.

A government quartermaster is being held in readiness to be sent from Monroe, La., to remove families of lock workers near Felsenthal if their homes are flooded. The water now is a scant foot above the Acro mound on which 21 persons are isolated five miles from the nearest land. Four children are taken to and from school each day by motorists—a trip of five miles through treacherous and floating debris to the village of Felsenthal.

At Lock 8, near Callon, water is less than a foot from the top of the government found, and probably will overrun the dump Wednesday. Workers there are prepared to stick to their station until the water rises at least three feet more—a rise that is not expected.

A score of oil wells near Smackover are under backwater from Smackover creek, and oil workers Tuesday predicted that the heavy rise expected Wednesday will flood 200 wells.

All highways, with the exception of the Monticello-Warren road which is under water from the Saline river, are open in south Arkansas.

Bookkeeper Held on Theft Charge

Joe R. Bates, Hot Springs, Alleged to Have Embezzled $350

HOT SPRINGS—Joe E. Bates, aged 27, bookkeeper for the Valley Supply Lumber Company of Hot Springs, was arrested Tuesday on a warrant charging embezzlement of $350. The theft was committed last summer, it was said by auditors from Kansas City working on the books.

Bates came into public notice a few weeks ago when his wife shot and seriously wounded Miss Ella Sheffield at Bates and the girl were about to enter a Central avenue theater. The Sheffield girl still is in the Leo N. Levi hospital. The bullet fired by Mrs. Bates struck her in the spine, paralyzing her from the knees down.

Previous to the shooting, Mrs. Bates had her husband and the woman in court and had brought separate action against her husband for support of herself and child.

Female Bluebeard Charges Delayed

Police Informed Evidence of Wholesale Murder Sufficient for Warrant

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio.—(AP)—Police Tuesday were informed by the county prosecutor's office they have sufficient evidence to bring murder charges against a woman accused of six killings, but decided upon a further investigation before issuing any warrant.

Detective Lieut. Louis Colabine, in charge of the investigation, said he would not act until he has checked death certificates and conferred with Coroner M. E. Hayes and a physician.

The woman, operator of a boarding house, was blamed by a neighbor and her son-in-law for the deaths of two children, two husbands and two boarders. She held insurance policies on the lives of three of the men.

Her first husband died of a leg infection six years ago, police said, and the second died two years ago in the Massillon State Hospital for the insane. The second husband, a boarder, said, "fell over in a fit" after drinking a cup of tea brewed by his wife.

The boarder said another boarder died on his way to work and he overheard the woman say she soon would "have another border in the hole." He said he became frightened when he learned she had a $500 policy on his own life and left her home.

The woman denied she had anything to do with the deaths of the four men.

Racketeer Slaying Laid to Paid Thugs

Gang of Killers Always Available, Asserts Chicago Prosecutor

CHICAGO.—(AP)—Existence of a gang of paid killers always available to enforce the dictates of powerful racketeers in Chicago was asserted Tuesday by Assistant State's Attorney Donald Thompson.

Thompson's charge came during investigation of the killing of Benjamin Rosenberg, part owner of a "non-association" dry cleaning plant. Rosenberg was slugged and shot to death near his home Monday night and a police said, of his campaign against racketeering.

"The men who killed Rosenberg were paid killers hired by an outlaw organization to which he refused tribute," said Thompson. "They belong to a gang which is paid by more powerful gangsters to slug, throw acid and to kill."

Rosenberg had spent 10 years fighting racketeering in the cleaning and dyeing industry, his associates said. He died "broken," his widow and three children facing eviction from their mortgaged home.

Four suspects, James Sazino, 22; Joseph Moschiant, 23; William Vasot, 23, and Michael Vasto, 26, were arrested Monday night.

Louis Clementi and Philip Mangano, brother of the notorious "Dago Lawrence" Mangano, gangster and "public enemy," were sought.

Mrs. Rosenberg laid the killing of her husband directly at the door of Al Capone's gang. She recalled her husband's career in the business from the days when George "Bugs" Moran and Capone's gangs fought an almost ceaseless war for the right to victimize dry cleaners.

"It's the Capone gang," Mrs. Rosenberg said. "They've fought my husband for 12 years and finally they got him."

She told how racketeers have banded together under the leadership of a supposedly respectable businessman, terrorizing cleaners and forcing them to pay as much as 25 cents for every garment cleaned.

Floods Swelled By Heavy Rains

Tallahatchie Overflow Is Likely to Be Prolonged by Near Cloudburst

GLENDORA, Miss.—(AP)—Heavy rains, general Monday night and Tuesday over the northern half of Mississippi, threatened to prolong indefinitely the Tallahatchie river flood and to swell other rivers from a little over an inch at Natchez to 3.21 inches at Greenville, Swan Lake, in the center of the Tallahatchie river flood valley, had a 2.90 inch rain up to 7 Tuesday morning.

Accompanying winds caused minor damage in sections of Mississippi, a rather severe storm striking Jackson today, and for a time almost paralyzing traffic and communication.

Pearl river at Jackson began swelling to a menacing stage, climbing nearly a foot in three hours and rising rapidly. The precipitation at Jackson registered 2.68 inches up to 10 a. m.

The heavy rains caused R. T. Lindley government weather observer at Vicksburg, to issue new river warnings.

The Tallahatchie and Yazoo rivers, Mr. Lindley said, would rise for an indefinite period. The Tallahatchie rose overnight one-tenth of a foot at Swan Lake to reach 34.5 feet.

The Yazoo river rose four-tenths foot at Greenwood to 36.7 feet, while at Yazoo City a three-tenths foot rise was registered.

The Mississippi river at Vicksburg rose four-tenths of a foot, reaching 37.8 feet. Flood stage at Vicksburg is 45 feet.

Extreme southern Tallahatchie county and Leflore county went actively into a fight against the lower flood of the Tallahatchie river.

The water rose 3 1/2 inches overnight at the plantation of R. T. Wade at Money, Miss., in Leflore county, and a shallow sheet of water was stretching out over a half-mile stretch of the Money-Sunnyside highway. The water, said Mr. Wade, would stretch out over 6,000 acres of land but would not attain great depth.

Water was pouring over the Wade levee for a half mile. "The levee is holding," Mr. Wade said, "but rain is falling so heavily it is impossible to get negroes to work on the dikes."

"If the people generally do not feel that this country is facing grave conditions they are badly mistaken."

Entire French Cabinet Follows Briand's Lead

PARIS.—(AP)—The entire French cabinet Tuesday followed the example of Aristide Briand and placed their portfolios in the hands of Premier Laval, leaving him free to do as he wishes in reconstructing the ministry.

This action not altogether unexpected, followed a conversation between the premier and M. Briand, whose ill-health impelled him to ask leave of what he is permitted to resign as fortiori minister.

This development, coupled with the sudden death of Andre Maginot, minister of war, precipitated the cabinet crisis.

The sky is wind-swept, and the golden air, rain-washed, is crystal-clear and keen to breathe. The hills since yesterday have shaken off their dim aloofness, and uprise so near, Clean cut and purple 'gainst the brow of morn, They startle you. There is brilliancy set like a seal on earth and heaven; it seems As if all nature made her ready for some festival, some august guest to come And tarry for a day. Some joy-to-be haunts in the field, inhabits all the woods, And thrills the blue; nor e'en night's darker mood Disperses the strong illusion; since the stars Shine brighter than their wont' and breezes blow The message, "Patience; it will all come true."—Selected.

E. K. Holman and son, Roy, of Idabel, Okla., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Duckett.

Mrs. C. W. Weltman and sister, Miss Mabel Heyworth, arrived Tuesday from an extended visit with friends and relatives in Albuquerque, N. M.

The Oglesby P. T. A. held their regular monthly meeting at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon at the Oglesby school, with Mrs. C. D. Lester, presiding. The meeting opened with the Lord's prayer, and the P. T. A. hymn, which was followed by a most inspiring devotion by Mrs. D. B. Thompson. The national president's message was read by Mrs. D. L. Bush, and the state president's by Mrs. Clyde Hill, an interesting report of the Cincinnati meeting was given by Miss Milburn, principal of Oglesby school, and a report of the study club was given by Miss Volle Reed. Thirty members answered to the roll call, with Miss Bessie Green's room winning the dollar.

With LaFayette as the study topic, the John Cain chapter of the D. A. R. held a most interesting and instructive meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. A. Graves on North Washington street, with Mrs. Gus Haynes as joint hostess. For the occasion, the Graves home was beautifully decorated with home grown roses, which further demonstrates that Arkansas is rightfully called the "Wonder State," and this year at least we can almost claim some of Florida and California's favorite slogan of "All-ways Summer," etc. The program was led by Mrs. Wilbur Jones, with Mrs. Frank R. Johnson reading a splendid paper entitled, "LaFayette, The Soul of Liberty," followed by a piano duet by Mrs. Wilbur Jones and Mrs. Chas. Locke of Ozon. The program closed with a paper by Mrs. S. L. Pankey entitled "LaFayette's Last visit to America." A short business period was conducted by the president, Mrs. Chas. Haynes. During the social hour, delicious refreshments were served.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, a large crowd was present. The devotion was given by Mrs. J. L. Cannon. Mrs. R. T. White, the chairman of the music committee opened the program with a beautiful organ number, after which an installation of the new officers was conducted by Dr. J. L. Cannon. A short business session was held by Mrs. O. A. Graves, the newly-elected president, at which time, Mrs. Stith davenport outlined the work of the Welfare Department, of which she is the chairman. One of the most pleasing numbers on the program was a violin selection by George Ruffin Marshall, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. White.

Marian Marsh Arrives Thursday at Saenger

Marian Marsh, headlined as the most sensational screen discovery of the year, will be seen at the Saenger Theatre Thursday in her first starring vehicle, "Under Eighteen," a Warner Bros. feature production.

The blonde, blue-eyed charmer, who, within the last few months has been triumphant as leading lady to John Barrymore, Edward G. Robinson and William Powell, was still in her seventeenth year, when she finished her first 'very own' film, aptly titled "Under Eighteen."

Miss Marsh, as the girl who tries by desperate means to raise herself into the world of the idle rich, gives a performance of amazing clarity and tenderness. The play is an adaptation of the popular magazine story "Poor Little Ritz Girl," by Frank Dady.

The star is supported by Warren William—Broadway leading man who is considered one of the most promising recent recruits to the screen; by Regis Toomey of "The Finger Points," fame; and by Anita Page, Joyce Compton, Emma Dunn, J. Farrell MacDonald, Judith Vosselli, Norman Foster, Dorothy Appleby, Maude Eburne, Claire Dodd, Paul Porcasi, Mary Doran, Murray Kinnell and Walter McGrail. Archie Mayo directed.

Mrs. G. W. Slater, of Graham, Tex., is visiting her daughter and Mr. J. L. Hiler of the Experiment Farm.

R. L. Gonnell, clothing merchant, has returned to his duties after being confined with a rather serious boil for the past two months.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Thomas, of East Third street, have had as their guests this week Mr. Thomas, mother, Mrs. M. M. Thomas, his sister, Mrs. Robert Wyche; and his brother, L. D. Thomas, all of Ringland, Okla. They left Wednesday for their home.

Two Strong County Teams to Play Here

Columbus and Guernsey to Meet at Armory on Wednesday Night

Both of these teams have splendid reputations.

"I was afraid Grandfather would be Shocked.."

"He's rather a bossy old darling, and I didn't know how he'd like the idea of my smoking. The first time I lit a Chesterfield in front of him, he sniffed like an old war-horse... and I braced myself for trouble. But all he said was, 'That's good tobacco, Chickabiddy.'"

"But I still think that if he hadn't been so impressed by the quality of Chesterfield, the old dear might have been less agreeable. Human nature is like that!

"Grandfather raised tobacco in his younger days, so he knows what's what. I don't, of course—but I do know that Chesterfields are milder. It's wonderful to be able to smoke whenever you want, with no fear you'll smoke too many."

"And it doesn't take a tobacco expert to prove that Chesterfield tobaccos are better. They taste better... that's proof enough. Never too sweet. No matter when I smoke them... or how many I smoke... they always taste exactly right.

"They must be absolutely pure... even to the paper which doesn't taste at all. In fact... as the ads say... 'They Satisfy!'"

Circuit Court Upholds State's Cigarette Law

PARIS, Ark.—(AP)—Logan county circuit court Friday ruled in favor of the state in a suit testing the legality of the cigarette tax law. R. M. Thompson, sought to have the law set aside by revenue agents.

Thompson contended he was acquitted of a charge of evading the law in justice court and that the seized cigarettes should be returned. Pat M. Minshew, assistant attorney general, represented the state.

Thompson still faces a suit for $2025 in federal court by the state as a counter action.

500 Jobless Men Provide Own Relief

CONCORD SPRINGS, Ark.—(NEA)—Five hundred unemployed men who expect to have their ranks swelled to 2000 as soon as housing is available, have undertaken to live their own relief problems here in an experiment without precedent in this section.

They are seeking to rehabilitate themselves as self-supporting and self-respecting citizens through a community-owned and governed colony known out of an 8000-acre tract of cut-over Arkansas timber land.

Each member of the colony will be a stockholder and the worker of 10 acres of land. Their enterprise is called the Arkansas-Missouri-Oklahoma Development corporation, and their holdings are in the center of the Ozark timber region, near Fayetteville.

Concord Springs is already one of the busiest hamlets in the country. Application has been made for a post-office, a deputy sheriff has been assigned to keep order, a town-site has been laid out and buildings are rapidly going up, and plans are being drawn for a dam to furnish water and cheap power to the new town.

A community-owned sawmill is turning out lumber to be used in fashioning the houses which will furnish living quarters for all shareholders. Already many cabins, a commissary, a barber shop, shoe shop and land office have been erected. A cannery factory is to be built as soon as vegetables are ready for canning.

An eight-hour day is being observed. "He who does not work cannot eat" is the town slogan, and it is observed literally.

Only persons with enough money to buy the necessary 10 acres of land and to buy food through the winter are admitted, but the total amount necessary is surprisingly small.

The real head of the colony, George Perrine, vice president, formerly was a big builder in Tulsa, but he had but 69 cents when he paid his colony dues and landed at Concord Springs. The movement started in Tulsa, Okla.

His drawings of the townsite, cottages, commissary and other buildings for the new town are professional enough to suit anybody. Carpenters,

"AS YOU WERE!"

What, we wonder, would be the reaction, if some Great Power could and would say to the many thousands in Arkansas who are now enjoying the benefits of NATURAL GAS—"As You Were!"

BACK to the dirt, smoke, ashes, grime of the old time solid fuels!

BACK to the many tedious hours in the old hot kitchen, just to prepare the family meals!

BACK to the old time under or over-heated homes!

BACK to the old "wood-shed" days—laying in the season's supply, (and C. D. D., too)—splitting the day's supply—carrying it in—feeding the stove—bricklayers, electricians, barbers, tradesmen, writers, factory hands, musicians, preachers are among the strange crew who plan to carve themselves a new destiny out of wilderness like their hardy forebears did in 49.

Let's hope Mother Nature will defer her command—"As You Were!"—for some far distant future generation!

"Please say we are not Reds, radicals, Communists, or a Soviet or Little Russia group," he said. "We are merely American men out of work who seek to solve our own relief problems. We are not beggars and believe that a general back to the land movement might do much good for the country that has gone too far in buying paper securities. We have a plan—a 10-year plan—for our own rehabilitation.

"We prefer to build a new community for Mother Earth in the Ozark wilds, rather than stand in a breadline in a dead oil city and wait for good times to return."

Dr. H. L. Clough of Tulsa is president of the corporation and nominal head of the community. He is a practicing physician and lawyer.

John McBride is secretary of the venture and C. E. Gillespie is treasurer.

A hotel, garage and tourist camp are being built on the highway for revenue purposes. Idea for the colony originated with a woman, Miss Ida Lawley of Sand Springs, Okla., who, however, is not a member.

The first 100 "builders" who are hewers of wood and drawers of water for those yet to come, wear the corduroy and boots of the old-time miner camp. They are growing new corn on hands made soft by years of office work and white collar jobs. But their eyes are bright, their skins clear, their muscles strong.

"America finished?" says one worker. "I should say not. We still are a pioneer country."

Fliers Take Their Swims in Dual-Role Reservoirs

SAN ANTONIO.—(AP)—Theoretically there are no swimming pools at Randolph field, the army's new "West Point of the air."

Practically speaking, however, there are four pools on the post where the personnel may swim and dive.

They are water reservoirs forming a part of the fire-fighting and sprinkling system. Equipped with sloping bottoms and smoothly finished sides, they were fitted for a dual role since no government appropriation was allotted for swimming pools as such.

Probably ought to extend that moratorium to include Leap Year. First the depression gets a man down, and then the women Leap on him.

Gale Length of Channel Rages on British Coast

LONDON.—(AP)—A gale raged the length of the English channel Sunday and did considerable damage along the south coast of Great Britain.

Giant seas broke over the promenades of all southern resorts. Lifeboats went out several times to the assistance of barges and other small craft in distress. No loss of life was reported.

A lifeboat from Eisey rescued nine men from the collier Mango near Portsmouth before dawn after the collier had been buffeted all night. Afterwards she was swept aground.

Aviation Survey

BUENOS AIRES.—South America is rapidly being developed by a network of air lines between the different countries. Argentine officials have just completed a survey of a line which will connect Buenos Aires and Asuncion, Paraguay, via the province of Entre Rios and Corrientes. This line will carry both mail and passengers.

Let 'Em Cry

MONTREAL.—Hardhearted landlords and complaining neighbors were given a jolt here when the Circuit Court ruled that a family cannot be evicted from a house because one of its offsprings sets up lusty bellows now and then. The ruling insisted that crying is a normal occupation for a normal baby and that it is not grounds for cancellation of an apartment lease.

Hurts Too Much

HOUSTON, Texas.—An unemployed man attempted to commit suicide here by cutting his wrists with a razor blade. But it hurt so much that he called an ambulance and was taken to a hospital. After his wrists were taken care of, hospital authorities released him, cautioning him not to attempt suicide again. "Don't worry," he said. "You won't see me any more. That hurts too much."

Floating Hotel

BERLIN.—The former steamship "Gurpfaiz" has been turned into a floating hotel at Ludwigshafen, on the Rhine. The steamer is anchored on the riverfront and is used mainly by the river workers. It has full hotel service and even has holds in which rowboats and canoes of river folk can be stowed when they stop at the hotel.

Your Purchase of Power

an unbounded value!

Consider what only a cent will do for you electrically, at the low rates which prevail in Hope. It supplies power to an electric motor that can give you hours of food protection... sew hundreds of thousands of stitches... clean and wash for hours during which more can be done than your grandmother could do in whole days! Truly a cent gives greater value than that which purchases power. Just a few pennies a day enables you to do everything electrically through it.

Strawberry Meeting is Announced In Nashville

Prominent Men Secured to Address Meeting on Various Phases of Strawberry Culture and Markets With View of Securing Acreage

By BERT JOHNSON
In The Nashville News

A meeting of great importance to this section will be held next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the court house. We are going to have men talk on every angle of the berry business. Ira Hughes of Murfreesboro will talk on the growing end. He has grown strawberries in this section for several years and has made a success of it. He is interested in a 19-acre field and has a good acreage of his own.

Glen Wallace, marketing agent for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, will talk from that angle. Mr. Wallace is very much interested in this territory. He has an interest in a 300-acre orchard near Horatio and owns the Johnson orchard between Murfreesboro and Delight, and is going to plant 15 acres of berries on the Delight farm. He is putting his personal money in our territory, which shows what he thinks of our country.

N. D. Zuber of the horticultural department of the A. R. T. Co., will talk on the handling of the crop. He is well known here and is going to plant a good acreage in strawberries on his farm just north of Nashville. E. A. Hudson of the agricultural department of the Missouri Pacific will also be here. He is also very much interested in our territory. We haven't got much of his money yet, but we will, I think. He and Mr. Wallace have contracted for 400 turkeys to be hatched to run on the Delight orchard. They gather up the bugs and in the fall, in grasshopper season, the turkeys reap a harvest, and later comes the peoples harvest on the turkeys.

Mr. Nuckles, also of the A. R. T. Co., will be here, as will others. This berry business is a crop here. In a way, we never have grown enough to load cars, but we have grown enough to know they do fine and we have the soil here. All we lack is quantity to load cars. We have quite a few acres around here. But Murfreesboro and Delight will load cars this year. I want the people of Nashville and this territory to give these men a big hearing, even if you know you cannot plant berries.

Come anyway, because if you live here it means something to you. You all know what the peach harvest does for our section. Now, if we get behind this berry business, it really means more, because it brings early money and gives work to every boy and girl here in this section and will import hundreds of others. Plants are cheap and we have plenty right here at home. Be sure and come out Friday at 2 o'clock.

Scientists Test Hybrid Corn To Raise Yield and Quality

Crossing inbred lines, at right, to develop a hybrid. The pollen, contained in the pollen gun, is blown on the silks of the ear under the bag. Upper left is Dr. M. T. Jenkins comparing a hybrid, the ear in the left hand, with the two parent inbred lines.

AMES, Iowa.—In an effort to develop disease and drought-resisting corn, scientists of Iowa State College experimented with thousands of plants during 1931 in an interesting program of cross-breeding.

On the agronomy farm here hundreds of strains were tested and thousands of plants were tended as carefully as a livestock breeder cares for his prize-winning bull.

One step in developing a new strain is the self-pollination of the corn plant. The field on the agronomy farm contained between 15,000 and 20,000 self-pollinated plants—"selfs," as they are known—the past season, and a total of nearly 30,000 selfs and crosses of various strains.

Under the direction of Dr. M. T. Jenkins, agronomist from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, many inbred lines have been crossed to make hybrids. Others are still to be tested and many others inbred lines are planned to afford material for seeking better strains of corn.

Paper Bag Used

The system used in the self-pollination of corn is interesting. A small bag is placed over the ear before the silks appear. When the tassels start to shed pollen a bag is placed over them and the pollen is transferred to the silks of the same plant. The bag is left over the ear until the pollination stage is past.

The object of this "selfing" is to isolate lines which will breed true. From six to eight years are required to produce uniform lines and fix their characters. The work at this station has been going on for nine years and the older lines are now uniform.

Only Best Ones Kept

Many of the "selfs" are discarded during the inbreeding process because of undesirable characteristics. The best ones are saved, developed and crossed with each other to test their ability to produce big-yielding hybrids. When this "acid test" comes many more are discarded.

After a good hybrid is found it must be grown for several years to determine its yielding ability, whether or not it will stand drought, whether the plants will stand up in a wind and other facts.

If the new hybrid shows promise of being valuable some of the seed is given to farmers to grow under farm field conditions to test it further. If it still shows sufficient promise its parents will be distributed so hybrid seed can be produced on a commercial basis.

Four hybrids were distributed last year for testing on farms and two or three of them probably will be placed on farms again next year.

Appreciable Yield Increase

Dr. E. W. Lindstrom, head of the genetics department, who also has done corn breeding work for several years, has found that by hybridizing Krug, a standard variety, with an inbred line he can increase the yield an average of 10 to 12 per cent over the standard variety, some years obtaining an increase of 25 to 30 per cent.

There is no question but that yields can be increased by hybridizing, thus permitting more corn to be raised per acre and the rest of the land put to some other use. But the mere fact that a corn is hybrid means nothing; there are good hybrids and there are worthless hybrids on the market, plant breeders say.
